CARE PRACTICES FORUM 2026

Meet the Speakers

The regulators, clinicians, advocates and providers shaping this year's program.

THURSDAY 10 SEPTEMBER 2026 • SYDNEY MASONIC CENTRE, SYDNEY

9:00 AM • OPENING SESSION

Natalie Siegel-Brown

Inaugural Inspector-General of Aged Care

Opens the day with the sector's hardest question: is the system being rebuilt around the rights and dignity of older people, or simply around compliance and care minutes? A frank, whole of system assessment of where reform is succeeding and where it is falling short.

10:00 AM • REGULATORY ADDRESS

Dr Mandy Callary

Chief Clinical Advisor, Aged Care Quality and Safety Commission

Sets the regulatory frame for the day, translating the Strengthened Standards into practical clinical expectations for medication safety and quality use of medicines, and the Commission's shift from compliance monitoring toward genuine capability building.

11:15 AM • INNOVATION SESSION

Myfanwy Wallwork

Head, AI Governance Learning and Development, UTS Human Technology Institute

Tackles the practical how of AI governance. Providers are adopting AI far faster than they are governing it. This session turns governance into a concrete capability, right sized for aged care, that keeps the judgement of care staff at the centre.

12:00 PM • CLINICAL SESSION

Kate Clutton

General Manager, Education and Provider Services, Dementia Australia

Brings the dementia lens to the heart of the medication safety conversation, from psychotropic prescribing and restrictive practices through to review and deprescribing, with a concrete way to build the capability your workforce needs.

1:45 PM • CLINICAL PHARMACY SESSION

Nerida Croker

Clinical Pharmacist FANZCAP and Operations Lead, Meditrax

An experienced clinical pharmacist specialising in medication management for aged care, supporting quality use of medicines across the sector. Brings the practice lens to medication incidents, psychotropics and antimicrobial stewardship.

2:30 PM • CAPSTONE PANEL

Dr Janice Tan

General Manager, Clinical Innovation, Bupa Australia

Anchors the clinical safety seat on the closing panel, asking whether digital innovation actually keeps care safe and human. Her dual vantage point, inside a major health organisation and at the bedside, keeps the conversation honest.

2:30 PM • CAPSTONE PANEL

Craig Gear OAM

Chief Executive Officer, Older Persons Advocacy Network

Holds the consumer voice on the closing panel, bringing the direct perspective of older Australians and asking whether a day of innovation and reform is actually reaching the person at the end.

2:30 PM • CAPSTONE PANEL

Duncan McKimm

Chief Executive Officer, Clarence Village

Brings the regional provider lens, and evidence that person centred innovation does not require a big budget. Not what large organisations with transformation budgets can do, but what any provider can do when the starting point is the person.
